LAWYER'S PLEAS TO
JUDGE CAVERLY TO
END CHICAGO TRIAL

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Chicago, Aug. 20.—The Leopold-Loeb trial emerged today from the thicket of strange medical theories and jaw-breaking words and came out into the wind-swept places where the shorter and simpler words of the law prevail.

For the first time since the epochal trial began, four weeks ago, the alienists with their bulging black portfolios were missing in Judge John R. Caverly's court room today. There remained only the lawyers, three on a side, to argue for and against the nose for the intellectual young slayers of Bobby Franks.

"Sympathies" has given away to the shorter and uglier word of "hang." "Hypochondriasis" has been supplanted with the more dignified synonym for hanging which is "extreme penalty," and "hyper-trichosis" has winged its way out with the alienist as "responsibility" and "turbidity" have entered with the lawyers.

The state is leading off in this oratorical battle to decide the fate of "Dicky" and "Babe," the state, too, will close, so that first and last, the deeper colleagues are going to hear "bang them" from the lips of the state's attorney.

Tom Marshall is the state's first pleader. He talked for an hour and a half yesterday, demanding always the death penalty, and he was still at it when court opened today. He is the technical expert of the state's attorney's office; he makes his way among the technicalities and the precedents with a familiarity that bespeaks long acquaintance. He will be followed by one of the Bachrach brothers for the defense; then Joseph P. Savage, for the state, followed by the other Bachrach brother, until finally the issue narrows down to smooth, suave Clarence Darrow, the "ace" of the defense, and to Robert E. Crowe, the peppery state's attorney, who has fought for two ropes from the start.

The laws of Illinois are not elastic enough to stretch this verdict to a prison sentence, Marshall told Judge Caverly and it must be the noose.

"Three things are involved," Marshall says. "They are responsibility, mitigation and turpitude. Responsibility is a status, there are no grades and degrees.

"If Leopold and Loeb are responsible enough to receive penitentiary sentences," they are by the same responsibility responsible enough to hang. They cannot be sent to prison unless they are responsible for this crime, and if they are responsible the fact is to be determined, not by "weak minds," not by "childish phantasies, delusions and mental disease" but by the turpitude of their crime.

This testimony has developed the depravity and vile life of the defendants, not nothing at all in extenuation. It stands here an aggravated murder—a helpless, defenseless little boy, snared in his automobile by two fiends.

Bayonne Bandits Lose
Nerve; Leave $4,000
After Shooting Banker

Bayonne, N. J., Aug. 20. (INS.)—Three bandits today shot and killed Wacław Zebrowski, 56, treasurer of the White Eagle Building and Loan Association. They became so frightened at what they had done they fled without taking the $4,000 their victim carried in his pockets. Three suspects have confessed, police announced.

AERIAL AMBULANCES TO BE GIVEN TRIAL
AT CARLISLE, PA.

Carlisle, Pa., Aug. 20. (INS.)—Army aviators will give airplane ambulances their first practical test here in a sham battle during old home week celebration the week of October 19, officers of the army post here announced today. Several regiments of soldiers together with national guardsmen from Central Pennsylvania will stage the sham battle.

A score of airplanes will circle over the battlefield picking up the "wounded" and rushing them to an "emergency hospital."

Army air officials will be here to witness the experiment, and see if aerial ambulances are practical in battle.

Producers, Consumers
Of Illinois Coal Meet
To Prescribe For Ills

Herrin, Ills., Aug. 20. (INS.)—With more than 200 Illinois mines shut down and thousands of coal miners in Southern Illinois out of work and in many cases in want, representatives of coal producing and coal consuming industries of the entire state of Illinois met here today at the invitation of the Herrin Lion's Club to discuss problems confronting the Illinois coal industry and to seek to remedy the depression now gripping southern Illinois.

$758,438 WAS COST OF
COMPENSATION IN
MONTH OF JULY

Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (INS.)—Approximately three quarters of a million dollars was paid in compensation to workmen or their relatives during July, a report of the Department of Labor and Industry shows. The exact amount was $758,438.

During the past month there were 15,102 accidents reported, 185 of which were fatal, 139 caused permanent disability, while 14,778 caused temporary disability.

5,755 agreements for compensation were approved.

Of the total amount of compensation awarded, $466,672 was awarded in fatal accidents, $268,725 paid in fatal accidents, and $496,718 paid as disability compensation.

These figures bring the total accidents reported since January 1, 1916 to 1,587,237 and the amount of compensation paid $56,054,759.

Luzerne county leads in number of accidents with a total of twenty-three; Philadelphia is next with twenty-two; Allegheny third with sixteen, and Fayette fourth with fourteen. Accidents in other counties range from 1 to 9.

Mine accidents lead the list, 79 having been reported. Industrial accidents with a total of 71 are next, while thirty-five accidents occurred in transportation and public utilities.

The counties that had no accidents that involved compensation were: Adams, Beaver, Bucks, Butler, Cameron, Clarion, Clearfield, Columbia, Cumberland, Elk, Forest, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Jefferson, Juniata, Montour, Perry Pike, Snyder, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, and Wyoming.

MORGAN FIRM MAY
NOT PARTICIPATE
IN GERMAN LOAN

By DAVID M. CHURCH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Aug. 20.—J. P. Morgan and Company, the world's most powerful international banking firm, may refuse to participate in the flotation of the proposed $200,000,000 German loan because of continued French occupation of the Ruhr, it was learned from an authoritative source this afternoon.

Thomas W. Lamont, who acted for the house of Morgan in the international bankers' negotiations here consistently opposed French occupation of the Ruhr. Lamont and other bankers feared that the presence of French and Belgian troops in the Ruhr would interfere with the free working of the Dawes plan and cause increased resentment on the part of the German people.

However, there are other banks, it is said, willing to assume leadership of the flotation of America's share of the bonds even if J. P. Morgan and Company withdraw.

According to the Westminster Gazette, there is danger of a split in the British cabinet between Premier MacDonald and Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden.

Snowden opposed the Ruhr compromise and the signing of the Anglo-Russian treaties. He was opposed to a Russian loan and demanded immediate evacuation of the Ruhr.

New News Facilities Are Again Added to Those of
Your Home Newspaper

Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (INS.)—The International News Service which serves the Progress, today augmented its extensive facilities for gathering and disseminating news in Pennsylvania by placing in operation from its bureau here a new automatic telegraphic circuit.

The new circuit gives International News Service more facilities for distributing news in Pennsylvania than any other press association.

In addition to two transcontinental trunk wires which relay national and world news to the Pittsburgh bureau for distribution to other state leased wires of the International News Service, that organization now maintains two automatic telegraphic circuits from its Pittsburgh bureau, a Morse telegraphic circuit from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia connecting its bureau here with both Pittsburgh and Philadelphia bureaus, and full telephone and commercial telegraph connections with scores of Pennsylvania newspapers.

COMPLETE PROGRAM FOR LEGION MEET IS ANNOUNCED TODAY

Greensburg, Pa., Aug. 20. (INS.)—With the biggest issue scheduled for the last day—the election of a state commander—the State American Legion will open its annual convention here Thursday, August 21. Sessions will be held Friday and Saturday also. Thousands of former service men will be here for the three-day convention and a comprehensive program of business and entertainment has been arranged.

J. Leo Collins, state commander of the Legion, announces the program as follows:

Thursday, 10 a. m.—Convention called to order; invocation by Rev. W. A. Atkinson, department chairman; singing of "Star Spangled Banner;" welcome address by Henry S. Coshey, Jr., commander of Greensburg Post No. 318; address of welcome by Mayor Yont of Greensburg; address by Col. C. Blaine Smathers, superintendent of the Soldiers' Industrial School, Scotland, Pa.; adoption of program of convention and selection and organization of convention committees.

Thursday, 2 p. m.—Report of credentials committee; address by Geo. A. Withers, chairman of national children's welfare committee of the Legion; Cyrus E. Woods, former ambassador to Japan; Philip Foreman, of New York; Paul J. McGahan, commander of the District of Columbia; Sgt. G. C. Woodfill, hero of world war; Dr. C. F. Hoban, State Department of Education; and Congressman Adam Wyant.

Thursday, 3 p. m.—Convention committees meet; report of department finance office and report of department adjutant.

Dr. Louis F. Arenberg, of Uniontown, Pa., was selected as commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the national encampment at Boston. He will preside until the next reunion to be held at Grand Rapids, Mich. He is the head of the Pennsylvania department of the G. A. R.

GENERAL OPENS CAMPAIGN IN A STRAIGHT
FROM THE SHOULDER TALK WHICH IS
FIRST OF MANY HE WILL DELIVER

Tells What Budget Plan
Has Accomplished and
Takes Stiff Arm Poke
at La Follette, Bryan.

SPEECH WAS PEPPY

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 19.—The acceptance speech of Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes as Republican vice presidential candidate, follows:

Mr. Chairman, members of the committee, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I accept the nomination of the Republican party for the office of Vice President, of which you now formally notify me.

The formal notification of the candidates of the political parties has established the custom of discussion by them of the issues of the campaign.

This campaign is a campaign of domestic issues, and in the campaign I shall try to discuss them fully, but I cannot cover them all in one speech and say what I want to say. Political issues in the United States have become too serious to trifle with, and its citizens realize it. The discussion of facts and truth is demanded, and that takes time. This is a campaign of brass tacks—not bombast.

G. O. P. Economy.

This administration has reduced the cost of governmental operation, and it was not an accident. It did this by firmly assuming executive control of the business organization of government and by hard work—not by oratory.

As a result, under our new tax law, approximately $6,000,000 per day less for national purposes will be collected in 1925 from the taxpayers than for the fiscal year of 1921, and our public debt has been reduced during the budget years, under this administration, in the sum of $2,732,396,381.49. In 1921, the last budget year, of the cost of government collected in national, state and municipal taxes, after debt payments, our Federal expenditures were 50 per cent and those of the states, cities and towns 41 per cent, but in 1923 the Federal government took 28 per cent of the taxes, and 72 per cent was spent by the states, cities and towns.

These figures indicate that, in the matter of economy and tax reduction, the Federal Government is headed in the right direction, and most of the states, cities and towns of our country in the wrong direction.

Coolidge Fearless

The administration, in lowering the enormous amount of Federal taxation, has lessened the drain from the pockets of the people and from the capital actively employed in productive industry.

President Coolidge, with fearless common sense and full knowledge of the facts and circumstances surrounding important decisions, endeavors to do the right and wise thing in the interests of the nation, uninfluenced by motives of political expediency. He courageously recommended the recognition of right principals in the tax reduction bill, indifferent to the denunciations who represent "the union bug" that those who followed the burden on their backs sought to betray them in the method of unloading. But statesmanship, braving temporary criticism and misrepresentation of right purpose, is always decorated with the eventual vindication which comes with full understanding on the part of the public.

This subject of public economy, the subject of relief from taxation, and of an adequate tariff for the protection of our national prosperity, I will discuss upon other occasions. The nonpartisan and economic agricultural question is a national question of such vital importance and so affecting national welfare, that it demands

OF CONCEALING
IDENTITY 76 YEARS

Boston, Aug. 19. (INS.)—"I will be a hundred years old in a few months and I don't want to die an unknown man. My name is not Matt Green. I am Robert R. Livingstone, and my father was the man who arranged the Louisiana treaty."

Thus to the mayor's committee that visited him spoke the man who had been taken to the hospital where he was taken following a mishap during the recent national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Green, or Livingstone, said he had kept his identity a secret 76 years from the time he was killed by a boyhood sweetheart.

In 1848 he enlisted in the army as "Matt Green," fought throughout the civil war and was awarded several medals. His military service also included 17 years in the navy. According to his story, the prominence of his family led him to take another name.

fuller consideration than is here possible. I shall discuss it in my speech at Lincoln, Nebraska, on August 29. Hits At "Bryanism"

I will therefore cover, however shortly, in this speech of acceptance, only three issues: one which I deem of the utmost importance, and two others—The League of Nations and The World Court.

It is in the heart and conscience of our people that great issues are defined, and politicians align on them, but have little to do with selecting them. A formidable attack has been launched on the fundamental principles of our constitution, and elemental things like this must be fought out.

One party—the Republican party, of progressive conservatism, under the leadership of President Coolidge, has taken its stand firmly upon the Constitution of the United States and all know where it stands. Opposed to it, and in reality its opponent, though the result of the effort may be to deadlock the contest for the Presidency and make Bryanism, succeed the Coolidge policy, is a movement of limited and dangerous radicalism. With a platform drawn by one man, designed to soften as much as possible the apprehensions as to what the movement means, those who are patriotic at heart but disconnected with existing conditions, to join with the socialists and other diverse elements opposing the existing order of things in a mobilization of extreme radicalism. A man is known by the company he keeps.

Says La Follette "Red"

In the words of the Associated Press of July 7, "The National Convention of the Socialist Party of America formally enrolled under the La Follette presidential banner." What is this banner which confronts the flag of the United States, upheld by President Coolidge and his platform? In answer I quote from the same dispatch of the Associated Press from a telegram sent by Eugene V. Debs, reading in part: "I think it wise for our party to make no nominations under the circumstances, but at the same time to hold the Socialist party intact, adhere rigidly to its principals and keep the red flag flying." Says the Associated Press further, "The Debs sentiment echoed the opinions expressed in the debate by such party leaders as Morris Hillquit of New York, Representative Victor Berger of Wisconsin, and Mayor Daniel Hoan of Milwaukee." Here is the battle alignment and here are the flags.

Lying between these two armies of progressive conservatism and of radicalism, which are properly aligned upon this issue in the minds and consciences of the American people, is interposed the Democratic party, with one conservative and one radical candidate on its ticket, hoping to get votes by avoiding the issue.

Sees Democratic Defeat

In this situation, for which the American people alone are responsible, the Democratic party, as a party,

Detroit, Aug. 20. (INS.)—Walter C. Tingle, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors Corporation, announced today the organization of the Ethyl Fuel Corporation, a $5,000,000 concern.

The Standard Oil and General Motors are equal shareholders in the new corporation, it was stated, which will take over the present business of the General Motors Chemical Company, and will immediately undertake to increase the production and enhance the distribution of the ethyl fuel, a discovery which was made by Dr. Kettering and Thomas Midgley, Jr., of General Motors.

KU KLUX AT ALLPORT

The Gray Ku Klux Klan initiation that has ever been held in Allport took place on Lienhardt's hill Monday night, when a large crowd was taken into the order. Hundreds of members were present, the majority being clad in their robes. It was a very pretty sight when the white-robed figures gathered around the fiery cross. At the conclusion of the initiation, refreshments were served which soon disappeared. The fields and roads surrounding the hill were crowded with spectators.

Henry W. Shoemaker, of McElhatton, Pa., and owner of the "Altoona Tribune," paid the following tribute to Frenchville and her citizens in a signed editorial in Tuesday's Tribune:

The Frenchville Picnic

The fifty-fourth Frenchville picnic has come and gone and, as usual, was enjoyed by many persons from Altoona. Good weather again prevailed, and the persons in charge pointed with pride to the fact that there had been only one rainy day in the entire fifty-four years. The Frenchville picnic is one of the most unique gatherings in the Pennsylvania mountains. It brings together for one day in the year the sons and daughters of Frenchville who have scattered to all parts of the Commonwealth. These French people, mostly from Picardy, the part of France which produced Governor Pinchot's ancestors, settled in Clearfield county in 1840, tradition having it that they walked all the way from Philadelphia. Some of the very old people, who were brought from France as small children, were present at the picnic this year, well up in their "eighties," and showed their fond remembrance for La Belle France by wearing the French peasant garb. The French language is universally spoken, at least on the day of the picnic, and natives of France who have resided recently state that the accent is particularly pure and accurate. Thirty years ago many of the stalwart young men of Frenchville were engaged in lumbering and rafting, and the deeds of such intrepid woodsmen as the Billotes, Coudriets, Rougeux, Mignots, Beaussigners, Hugars, Plubels and Lachats are remembered wherever the annals of Pennsylvania lumbering days are recorded. Gone are the logging days, the rafts, arks, bateaux and booms, and today the youth of Frenchville are numbered among the leading railroaders and shopmen of the State, being particularly numerous at Altoona, Sunbury, Renovo and Avis.

H. W. S.

The Pennsylvania State Game Commission, in its annual report just issued, asserts, among other things, that the coming Legislature kindly let the game laws alone. This is a wise suggestion. The game laws are now about as near perfect as we could wish them and the sportsmen of the State all appear to be satisfied with them.

Hunting accidents in the two years covered by the report totaled 320, of which 90 were fatal. The report said these were "far too large" but were in about the same ratio as

While the game laws are very satisfactory the fish laws of the State are equally unsatisfactory, especially as they relate to trout fishing, propagation and protection. We have at hand a letter on "How The Brook Trout Can Best Be Preserved" from the pen of Judge A. S. Heck, of Potter county, which recently appeared in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, which should be read by every trout fisherman and we propose to print that letter in this column tomorrow as a matter of public education on the subject treated in the hope that it may be the means of bringing about desired legislation to accomplish the ends Judge Heck sets forth in his expert findings.

And they are sane beyond all reasonable doubt. They are asking your honor to speculate on the responsibility that they themselves admit. That is all. "Dicky" and "Eabe" move somewhat uneasily in their seats as Marshall talks. The grins and the guffaws that have constituted their show of nonchalance throughout this trial fade away somewhat, but still there is no indication of any "break" in their remarkable composure. They listen closely and whisper to their attorneys, and two seconds after adjournment or recess they are heading for the bull pen for a chat and a smoke.

The four-wheel brakes—Chrysler Lockheed hydraulic type—we believe to be the simplest and most efficient in existence today. They are automatically and permanently equalized. Each individual wheel receives precisely the same braking pressure each time the brakes are applied. These brakes require no lubrication. There is not a single rod or strut to rattle. Also among the numerous Chrysler Six features are the centrifugal air-cleaner which purges the air taken in by the carburetor; and an oil-filter which thoroughly cleans all the oil in the crankcase every 25 miles, promoting economy and long life.

DUFTON HARDWARE COMPANY

Twenty-two years ago the Dufton Hardware Company started business at its present location in Clearfield after purchasing the James P. Staver harness, buggy and implement establishment. To this business was added a general line of hardware and building material and a three story brick addition built on the rear of the property. As demand grew for new lines they were added and other lines were cut out, such as harness, buggies, etc.

As Clearfield grew so did the business grow and today the Dufton Hardware Company occupies all four floors of its new brick building and has large warehouses and lumber sheds near the B. & P. station.

Why It Will Pay You To Trade In Clearfield

We know that every true citizen of Clearfield is for the betterment of Clearfield. All that remains then is to find the best ways in which to better it. If you who have been reading these articles from week to week know of any better way of improving conditions in Clearfield we want to hear from you. Every citizen should take it upon him or herself to enter into the community spirit of things. And so if you have any suggestions do not hesitate to offer them to the rest of your fellow citizens. Remember we are all ONE—we are all for betterment in every way possible.

Next week we are going to talk to you about the personal interest you have in the amount of money in your local banks. Whether your bank account runs into thousands or whether you don't have a bank account at all this article is going to be of interest to you. Watch for it next week.

A FARMER'S OFFICE

In the 1924 home improvement contest for rural and small communities, conducted by the extension division of the Department of Agriculture, a house in Albemarle county, Virginia, won first place. In that model farm home one of the rooms was furnished as a farmer's office.

An office for a farmer is something new in domestic architecture, but its entrance upon the scene tells much of recent developments in farming. It indicates that the modern farmer does more than plow, plant and reap, and more than milking and general chores. In these days the prosperous farmer keeps books on his farm activities. He knows what his labor is worth and how much his crops cost him and how to rate the living he gets from his farm as well as the cash profit at the end of each year. He has magazines and scientific bulletins to read and he has some business correspondence to attend to.

The intelligent farmer never was the hayseed the comedians of cartoon and stage liked to pretend he was. Along with better farm machinery and up-to-date farming methods it is understandable that he is coming to need a quiet and convenient office in which to take stock of his affairs and carry on the strictly business side of his occupation.

SNORERS

The Chicago Department of Health deserves the gratitude of the world for making it known that snoring is not a habit but a disease, and that it can be cured.

In the case of children, says a department bulletin, the cure is likely to be effected by the simple process of removing the adenoids which ought to be removed anyway, as an aid to health; the family's relief from the snoring is just so much to the good. Similar treatment will cure many an adult, too. But whatever the cause, it is nearly always remediable.

This tip should suffice, in most cases, to send the conscious offender to his or her family physician, and to bring the truth to the ears of unconscious offenders. For snoring is an evil which goes far beyond the mere breathing defects of which it is a symptom. "That more killings have not taken place on account of snoring," says the Chicago bulletin, "is due to good emotional control, and we should be thankful for that." But emotional control, as we are often reminded nowadays, is liable to break down at any time.

PRIVATE ARMAMENT

A seventeen-year-old boy who pursued the primrose path of burglary for several months before he was caught, and who confesses cheerfully to about two dozen robberies and burglaries, gives an illuminating account of his entrance upon the path of crime.

He deliberately chose that path, he says, because it was "such an easy way to make a living". It was easy to begin because there was no trouble at all about getting revolvers from mail order houses. After he had them, with the artificial courage and means of offense and defense they supplied, he had no difficulty in carrying out his plans. He lived very well until the police finally caught him.

This is only one more indictment brought against the unregulated sale of firearms. How long will a country that is so eager for the disarmament of nations delay action looking to the disarmament of its own criminals?

BALANCED RATIONS

By FLORENCE DAVIES
Modern experts on the science of eating have been talking for years now about the balanced ration. Years ago we ate meat and potatoes and white bread and butter and apple pie, and called it a meal. Also we developed headaches and acidosis and didn't know why. Too many starches and proteins in the diet. Too much concentrated food, not enough roughage, not enough vitamins, not enough carbohydrates. So we substituted whole wheat bread for starchy white bread, added a crisp salad or a green vegetable, tried fruit instead of pie for desert once in a while and found that we all got along better.

But there's another chapter to it is business of the balanced ration. We have found out how good they are for the body and it's about time that we tried them for the mind. Steady mental diet of one kind is just as bad for the mind as a monotonous physical diet. That is one reason why we simply have to take vacations. It isn't because we are all so tired physically that we have to take a rest. That theory is largely mythical. I know a woman who works hard all day long doing the hardest kind of domestic duties for her large family. She gets so tired physically that she sometimes declares she can't drag one foot after the other. But her vacation didn't consist of going to bed and resting for a week. No, she snatched a few days in a big city where she worked as hard at play as she ever worked making beds and ironing little boys' blouses.

She was at it early and late, catching an early train for a trip to the suburbs to visit a friend and staying up to go to the theatre in the evening. She went home with the ridiculous admission that she'd have to get back to housework and get rested up. But she had had a fine vacation. She had had a change of mental diet.

We all need it. We all ought to take a look at our mental menus once in a while and see what's on the bill of fare. Check it over. For the business woman, it's a matter of being up in the morning and off to work, reading the daily paper on the bus or car, work till lunch, an hour off with the same little set of office pals, back home to dinner, a favorite magazine, a movie, or a chat with the same people at the boarding house, and, as Pepys, the diarist would say, "and so to bed."

The club woman's day is apt to follow a routine in much the same way, and the teacher finds herself slipping into a mental groove. Why not study the mental menu and add a new dish? If you haven't been to a play or movie for a month, why not go? If you've been every week all summer long, why not stay at home and get a book on American painters? The old boys were a jolly funny lot. Or a City planning, or modern methods of dealing with juvenile delinquents. It doesn't matter very much what you choose, but let's have a change. Minds as well as bodies need variety.

Your balanced mental ration will do your mind as much good as the fresh salads do your bodies. Balanced rations for minds as well as bodies. Try 'em.

Acceleration, Safety Factor, Says Franklin Auto Sales Agent

"Ability to accelerate quickly is a very definite factor making for safety in automobile driving," says S. E. Ackerman, sales manager of the Franklin Automobile Company. "While the Franklin car has always had an enviable reputation for safety, 49 per cent increase in power now gives it a celerity of movement which makes it a safer car to handle than ever."

"Many times in driving in traffic, ability to speed up quickly avoids tight situations. From 5 to 25 miles per hour in nine seconds shows how agile the Franklin is in this kind of driving. When out on the road acceleration from 30 to 50 miles per hour in 16 and one-fifth seconds makes it possible to get around the laggards without risking 'close calls' with cars approaching rapidly from the opposite direction."

"Any marked ability to accelerate calls for deceleration in equal degree, which Franklin provides in its power-fuel-injection transmission brake. With it, the car can be brought to a stop from a 40-m.p.h. speed in the distance of 82 feet 4 inches, and from a speed of 20 miles an hour in 20 feet."

CONGRESSMAN SWOOPE WILL SPEAK FOR COOLIDGE AND DAWES

Congressman Tilson, who is managing the speakers campaign for Coolidge and Dawes in the Eastern part of the country, has written Congressman Swoope the following letter:

"As you may know, I have been selected to manage the Speakers Bureau for the Eastern Headquarters of the Republican National Committee and I am now preparing a list of speakers of national prominence who will be available for use outside of their own states during the coming campaign."

"I hope that I shall have the benefit of your services for a considerable part of the campaign and I wish you would drop me a line at once letting me know whether I can count upon you for work of this kind during September and October."

"I would like to have you work with me in the speaking campaign in the east and wish you would let me know whether you can help and when you will be available for speaking engagements."

Following this letter, Mr. Swoope received a telegram asking him to speak in New York and Massachusetts. If his engagements at home will permit, Mr. Swoope will make some speeches in those states during the campaign.

IV. The Destruction of Atlantis

Atlantis is a continent mentioned in Plato's history, and extended across the Atlantic Ocean approximately from Europe to Yucatan. It is the subject of an exhaustive volume by Ignatius Donnelly and has also served as inspiration for several novelists. This continent, it is believed, was the home of a great race which conquered and civilized the world. The Azore Islands are considered to be the tops of its lofty mountains, and are all that now remains above water of the great country.

"OLYMPIC MEET" AT PARK CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING

The "Olympic Meet," planned for the young folks of the community at the athletic park tomorrow afternoon, promises to be an unusual affair. All Wallacetown Park, Wednesday, Aug. 21, those 16 and under have been practicing hard at their local playground in an effort to capture the all-around athletic honors of Clearfield and most of the teachers are expecting to send their full quota of fleet hopefuls to the final tests.

On account of the Chautauqua the meet will not start until after dinner and all contestants are to be on the job ready for action at 2 o'clock. Four events will be run off at a time and the program should not last over two hours.

The prizes, which have been on display, have attracted considerable attention and with the wording "All Around (Boy or Girl) Playground Championship, Clearfield, Pa.," should see every girl and boy to do their best. First, second and third prizes will be awarded in each group.

The field will be put in shape today and at the stated time tomorrow the Olympics will be under way.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Penrose and sons Ralph, Clifford and Billie, of Glen Richey, spent Sunday with Geo. S. Jones and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kanouff, residing near Wallacetown, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the Clearfield Park, Wednesday, Aug. 21, going once more through the ceremony connected with the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Morgan, of this town, performed the ceremony, after which a sumptuous dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Riekner, of Clearfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Washburn, of Morrisdale, were attendants for the happy couple. They received many beautiful and useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Kanouff, though getting pretty well up in years, are still quite active. Mr. Kanouff being 75 and Mrs. Kanouff 66 years of age. The happy couple have ten children, 46 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Among those present were Rev. B. Hummel, Mrs. James Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Riekner, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Carr and child, Mrs. Laura Owens and Earl Kanouff, of Clearfield; Mrs. Polly Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown and five children, of Krebs.

Little Miss Maybelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Leigey, of the Glaub farm, is taking a week's visit at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Maybelle Thomas, on Weaver street.

New News Facilities Are Again Added

With the opening of the "printer" circuit here, International News Service has a network of leased wires over the state insuring complete news coverage of every section of Pennsylvania.

ELECTRIC SUPPLY COMPANY
123 Market Street

In the Courts

Recent automobile accidents in this section are responsible for two personal injury suits begun in the Clearfield county courts this week. In the first case J. Mitchell Chase, Esq., representing Louis Aveni, of Woodland, asks $465 from Joseph Aveni, of Clearfield, for injuries sustained by himself and his Chevrolet bug as the result of a collision with a Ford truck owned by the Clearfield man who is said to be a cousin of the plaintiff.

The accident which is responsible for the suit occurred down on Daisy street, between Ninth and Tenth, on May 24th, 1924. On the evening of that day Louis Aveni drove down Daisy street in his bug, traveling like a "bugger," to use an old-time slang expression. The other Aveni's truck backed out of the alley mid-way between Ninth and Tenth streets as Louie neared the spot with the result that bug and truck smashed together. Louie came out of the fray with his scalp lock hanging on his rear collar button and was forced to spend one week at the Clearfield hospital while the doctors there tacked the fur back on his capula. He was unable to work for six weeks on account of the injuries sustained in the wreck, losing thereby $1 to $5 per day he was away from his home. His doctor's bill totaled $85. He asks that Cousin Joe reimburse him for all of this and $300 for the "bug," or a grand total of $465.

Bell & Brockbank, on behalf of Michael Mulgrew, of DuBois, have also entered suit against E. C. Pooler, Jr., of Rockton, in which $5,000 damages are asked for the death of Charles Mulgrew, a son of the plaintiff, who was knocked down and dragged a considerable distance by an automobile being driven over the streets of DuBois on the night of September 16, 1922.

The statement filed recites that on the night in question young Mulgrew left the Eagle's Hall and in attempting to cross N. Brady street was within two or three feet of the west curb when struck by the defendant's automobile, which the plaintiff alleges was being driven in a careless and reckless manner.

The plaintiff, who is 69 years of age and partially incapacitated from labor by reason of age and infirmities, is suing for $5,000 damages for the loss of his son's care and assistance and for expenditures of $403.60 for funeral expenses and $30 other expense incidental thereto.

Farm labor is not a very gainful occupation, nor do pay days arrive very often, if one is to judge by the experience of R. B. Shirey, as recited in his bill of particulars in a suit filed Monday against Moses Norris, Pike township. Shirey, by his attorney J. Mitchell Chase, filed a suit demanding that Norris pay him $907 for back wages due. The statement filed says that on July 1, 1914, the plaintiff entered into an agreement with the defendant to work upon his farm for the (princely) sum of $15 per calendar month. Under this contract he labored until Nov. 15, 1919. During the entire 64 1/2 months he received wages to the amount of but $90 and this suit is brought for the purpose of enforcing the contract or agreement and collecting the remaining $907.

Bell & Brockbank, on behalf of James Hession, of DuBois, have entered suit against the P. R. R. Co., in which damages of $2,000 are asked for personal injuries received by Hession while a passenger on a main line train of the Pennsy. The statement filed sets forth that on August 23, 1923, the plaintiff was in Pittsburgh and purchased a ticket for Greensburg. Through the error of a station or train attendant he was directed to the wrong gate and when finally taken to the right train was so late that he had to board the rear platform of the last car and was then forced to walk forward through two or three Pullman cars to the coach where his ticket entitled him to ride. Being partially disabled by reason of a crippled right leg he was forced by the swaying of the train as he passed through the vestibule of one of the cars to throw out his hand to support himself, when he got that member caught between the ends of two cars and received painful injuries. He demands $2,000 to pay medical bills and to recompense him for his pain and suffering.

Samuel R. Bogle, of DuBois, was granted a divorce from Emma Bogle, on recommendation of Commissioner L. E. Boyer. The testimony taken showing that a boarder in the Bogle home, one Gilbert E. Waterhouse, had supplanted Bogle in his wife's affections.

A debt is a debt, in the eyes of the law, and the fellow attempting to evade payment is liable to run afoul of the law in several different directions. C. I. Weeks, a former Clearfield transient, resident, transferred his scene of operations to Philipsburg some time ago, and while there became indebted to Ferd Todd, in a considerable amount. A check was given Todd, but when the check was presented at the County National Bank here the giver of the check had no funds on deposit to meet it.

Todd then had Weeks arrested for issuing a fraudulent check. He was arrested and placed in jail. Interesting Attorney W. A. Hagerly in his case. Weeks filed a habeas corpus petition, which was heard by Judge Chase Monday. The testimony showed the check to have been a "time check." That is when given it was dated 30 days ahead. The "fraudulent check law" provides where a person takes a "time" or dated ahead check, he bars himself from prosecution for fraud if there is no money on hands to meet the check when the "time" or date for payment arrives.

That being so, when the nature of the check was made known to Judge Chase he directed that Weeks be released from Warden McClure's clutches. He didn't get far, however, as no sooner had he started from the courtroom than Sheriff Lowell stepped forward with a warrant for his arrest for embezzlement of the sum involved and Weeks was soon back in jail on this latter charge.

Curwensville's Own Column

David Reid, who had been ill several weeks at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jos. G. Fullerton, has so far recovered as to be able to go to his home in Glen Richey.

Thursday the Rescue Hose and Ladder drill team goes to Patton to attend the district convention and compete for the drill prize. The fire ladders have been working pretty hard on the drill for the past month, and seem to have arrived at a state of proficiency sufficient to capture the big cash prize offered for the finest drill team at the convention. The Rescue boys have never yet failed to capture the drill prize in any contest in which they had entered, and there is no reason to doubt that on next Thursday they will win and bring the side of Lacan home with them.

Miss Helen Kephart has gone to Mt. Pleasant, Fayette county, where she has entered a contract to teach a winter term of school. She is perfectly capable to handle the work, having recently graduated from a course of study at Indiana Normal. The best wishes for her success by her many Curwensville friends go with her.

Messrs. M. A. Caldwell, Richard Lantz, John Haley, Dr. Blair and James Black form a party which left today for a fishing trip in Virginia, where they will spend the balance of the week trailing the waters of the Potomac for bass.

A new steam heating system is being installed in the Locust street school house. The old dry heat system had become so unreliable that the school board found it absolutely necessary to replace it before the winter season set in. When completed and installed the new plant will cost about $3,000, but it will be well worth it. The plant is really larger than is necessary at the present time, but will come in mighty handy if it is ever found necessary to enlarge the present building. The old boiler was stationed right under the stairway, and being contrary to law, the new one was shifted to the northeast corner of the cellar. The toilet system which had also gone wrong and was a menace to the good health of the pupils, will be replaced by new and more convenient stalls.

"Campaign Of Brass Tacks"

instead of recreating itself from the two battle lines, will suffer only the fate which befalls those who try to straddle in a real fight.

We are face to face with an abnormal condition in this country, existing because of lack of respect for law, caused in part by widespread demagoguery in legislative bodies, in part by the weakness of many of those commissioned to execute the law, and in part by the existence and activities of aggressive minority organizations behind selfish purposes.

In Congress during the last few years the American citizen has heard more demagogic utterances than have ever before characterized it. He has seen men running for Congress and the Senate, advocating in the same state at the same time, and irrespective of their inconsistency, increased wages for railroad labor and decreased railroad rates, and higher prices for beef on the hoof and lower prices for beef on the table.

It is not too much to say that from the average candidate for office in either party, he must accept either evasion or a doctrine designed to please him and appeal to his prejudices, irrespective of whether or not it tends to plunge the whole country in disaster.

He has seen the disposition on the part of political leaders and officeholders to condone in minority organizations acts of lawlessness. He has witnessed the stealing on the part of the candidates, of the habilitations of a conservative party for election purposes, and then, after election, the betrayal of the party to those arrayed against fundamental principles of the Constitution.

The average man, with his sense of fair play, despises and condemns the man not to catch votes under false pretenses, and he feels that the desire of politicians to get votes in this way is endangering the fundamentals of this great republic.

As the enemies of the existing order of things group themselves for battle, the average good citizen knows that the elemental principles for which his forebears fought are at stake.

He demands a strong leadership, standing on the Constitution, and moving forward with law and order, common sense and high purpose, to combat strong leadership tending toward disintegration.

He has this in Calvin Coolidge and the platform on which he stands. Neither President Coolidge nor his party platform assumes that the Constitution of the United States is an outworn document of old-fashioned ideas, to be discarded for the principles of the new socialism.

YELLOW DOG DOINGS

The Yellow Dogs of this vicinity gathered at the new K-9 Kennel at Irvin Park, Curwensville, in goodly numbers last evening for the purpose of taking some action relative to taking out personal injury insurance for both old Sirius, the senior Dog Star, and Kanicula, the little Dog Star, both of which will be located so close to the planet Mars on next Friday, when the home of the first warrior makes its nearest swish to the earth in a thousand years.

A new Yellow Dog from New Millport claims to be able to read, the heavens and is in general communication with all the heavenly regions and bodies, and is said to have informed Chief Cur Norris of the possible danger to the canine stars on this occasion, hence the alarm regarding the need for insurance against a Martian even attempting to tie a tin can to either Dog Star's tail.

Those New Millport fellows, Yellow Dogs included, are so reckless with the truth, that the scenery one could not even get a hearing on his insurance proposition—he is a director in the Grange Insurance Co., Low LaPorte claims. The proposition to parade on Labor Day also got jammed in the slats and there will be no parade, because there will be so much going on in Curwensville on that day nobody will have time to do anything but enjoy himself.

The proposed pilgrimage to DuBois to organize a kennel was put on the program for the near future after which Judge Chase was called upon to give a history of the Yellow Dogs. He took his text from one of Billy Bryan's dissertations on evolution and agreed with Bill that while a bald-headed man could be a Yellow Dog his over-civilized bare cranium was proof positive that even though he could make a monkey of himself at times he never descended from one. Some errors in the Judge's dates and facts were corrected by another Clearfield kennel hound, and then Chief Cur Norris called the role of the class of new members present for initiation.

The class was headed by Hugh M. Irvin, Curwensville's most philanthropic citizen, who, with his sister, presented beautiful Irvin Park to Curwensville for all time to come. Mr. Irvin was introduced to the assembly and was given a highly flattering reception, ending with three rousing cheers in recognition of what this good citizen is doing for his home and people.

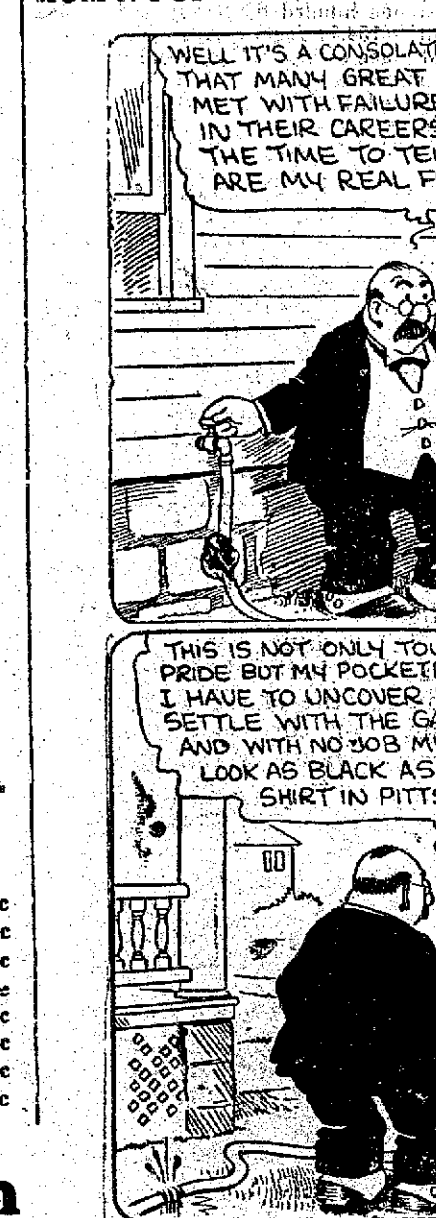

The new class totaled 125 members and the ceremonies incident to their majestic, elevating and to the point, majestic, elevating, and to the point.

At next week's meeting the full Labor Day program will be announced.

PRIMARY FACTORS AFFECTING FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES OF THE FARMER
	0	10%	20%	30%	40%
Low Farm Prices
High Taxes
WAGES
HIGH INTEREST RATES
RECKLESS EXPENDITURES
TO MUCH CREDIT

Forty-two per cent of the farmers in the United States blame their financial difficulties on the low prices of farm products, according to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, which has completed a study of the primary factors affecting the financial difficulties of the farmer based on a survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture. Seventy per cent of the farmers feel that high taxes are the direct cause of the farm depression, eleven per cent blame the high costs for farm labor, ten per cent feel that high freight rates are responsible, ten per cent blame high interest, six per cent credit the depression to reckless expenditures during boom period, and four per cent think it was too much credit.

An inquiry made by the Department of Agriculture through both bankers and farmers shows that on an average 3 per cent of the farm owners in 15 corn and wheat-producing states lost their farms through foreclosure or bankruptcy. Four and a half per cent more had turned over their farms to creditors without legal process, making a total of about 8.5 per cent who had lost their farms with or without legal proceedings. An additional 15 per cent were really bankrupt, but were holding on through the leniency of their creditors. By groups of states the percentage of owner-farmers who lost their farms since 1920 were as follows: Five East North Central states, nearly 6 per cent; seven North Central states, over 9 per cent; and for the three Mountain states nearly 20 per cent. The percentage of tenants who lost their property ran materially higher.

Records of the Department of Justice indicate that in the pre-war years, 5 per cent of all the bankruptcy cases were farmers. In 1922 a survey showed that 14 per cent of all bankruptcy cases were farmers. In some of these states where in pre-war years the farmer bankruptcy cases represented about 7 per cent of all such cases, this percentage in 1922 had risen to nearly 30 per cent.

These losses have not been due to inefficiency on the part of the farmers, points out the Agricultural Foundation, as practically all of them were incurred by men who had been doing fairly well until they entered the period of drastic deflation.

Great Rally To Close
Big Union Meetings

Will not be closed until the grand rally on the 31st. Upon the advice of many lay members of the five combining Churches, the pastors of four of the Churches on Monday morning planned to meet the urgent request of the people by closing this series of Sunday night union meetings with a big rally in Trinity Church on the 31st. The outstanding features of that gathering, at which for 1-2 o'clock in the series every pastor of the five churches will be present, are not sufficiently matured at this writing for announcement. But it will be a goodly meeting, a climax—so far as the plans can make it.

Instead of union meeting the 24th as planned, the Chautauqua Vesper Service in the tent, will be held. This is a repetition of great Chautauqua service, held for 50 years at Chautauqua, N. Y. In this great and wonderful service, to be carried forward in Clearfield under very fortunate conditions, two attractive features can be announced. They are the cream of the Chautauqua talent of this year, and happen to be assigned to Clearfield for the Sunday stay-over. The Swiss Yodlers are to furnish the music, and the distinguished Mr. Samuel W. Griffith, known for his newspaper work in the Spanish war, and special religious correspondent for the Washington "Star," but most of all as Religious and Industrial Director of the largest "Y" in the world, is to deliver a great message. This substitution will center a greater interest in the Sunday night meeting and hold Chautauqua in finer and closer relation and valuation.

Highway Patrolmen Are Doing Effective Work;
800 Violations In July

Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (INS)—Eight hundred prosecutions for violation of the motor vehicle laws were made during the month of July. It was announced here today.

Of the 800 violations made by the State Highway Patrolmen, 292 were for careless driving, 150 for passing, 100 for illegal turns, 147 for using car out of gear, 78 for driving without license, 57 for 1-1/2 ton high powered headlights, and the remainder for various minor violations.

These prosecutions enriched the Treasury by $8,172.

N. Y. C. SHOPMEN PICK
AT IRVIN PARK

The shopkeepers of the New York Central car shops and their families held a basket picnic at Irvin Park, Clearfield, yesterday. The affair was highly enjoyed by all, especially the kiddies who took good advantage of the free amusements found at the park.

The baseball game was won by the home team who scored 16 runs to the marred mark of 9. A feature of the game was Peterson's running for "Red" Kelly, using his Oakland sedan to round the bases and being tagged out between third and home.

When Newly Painted

To prevent windows sticking the thing to remember is that for two or three days after the frames are painted each window should be opened and run up and down two or three times a day. Unless this is done the windows are almost certain to stick.

"Hello" Girls Prevent
Panic When Fire Rages
In Big Pittsburg Hotel

Pittsburgh, Aug. 20.—Telephone girls prevented a panic when fire broke out late yesterday in the repair shop of the William Penn hotel, on the 19th floor. Calling every guest, the girls assured them there was no danger, as the fire could not break thru the heavy cement barriers which held it inside the repair shop.

Elevator operators also stuck to their posts, reassuring guests. Firemen, breaking through a throng which collected as soon as the flames became visible from the street, quelled the blaze after a hard fight. The damage was estimated at $6,000.

PINE STREET WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Ann Mignot, of Pine street, who had been suffering from cancer for some time, passed away yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Jackson, at Norfolk, Va., where she had been staying since becoming seriously ill.

Mrs. Mignot was a native of the Frenchville region, but came to Clearfield following the death of her husband, the late Ferdinand Mignot, several years ago.

Her remains will arrive in Clearfield tomorrow afternoon and funeral announcement will then be made.

In addition to the daughter mentioned, Mrs. Mignot is survived by one son "Ferd" or C. J., of Clearfield.

PAT HARRISON A 2 TO 1 WINNER

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 20. (INS).—Sweeping the state with a six-to-one vote in yesterday's Democratic primary, United States Senator Pat Harrison today was assured of renomination over his only opponent, former Governor Earl Brewer.

Senator Harrison, according to early and incomplete returns, is leading in every precinct.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that graying appearance, that sallow, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red blood cells—and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes venous-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give your self what you have been working for, for years.

LAWYER'S PLEAS TO
JUDGE CAVERLY TO
END CHICAGO TRIAL

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Chicago, Aug. 20.—The Leopold-Loeb trial emerged today from the thicket of strange medical theories and jaw-breaking words and came out into the wind-swept places where the shorter and simpler words of the law prevail.

For the first time since the epochal trial began, four weeks ago, the alienists with their bulging black portfolios were missing in Judge John R. Caverly's court room today. There remained only the lawyers, three on a side, to argue for and against the nose for the intellectual young slayers of Bobby Franks.

"Sympathies" has given away to the shorter and uglier word of "hang." "Hypochondriasis" has been supplanted with the more dignified synonym for hanging which is "extreme penalty," and "hyper-trichosis" has winged its way out with the alienist as "responsibility" and "turbidity" have entered with the lawyers.

The state is leading off in this oratorical battle to decide the fate of "Dicky" and "Babe," the state, too, will close, so that first and last, the deeper colleagues are going to hear "bang them" from the lips of the state's attorney.

Tom Marshall is the state's first pleader. He talked for an hour and a half yesterday, demanding always the death penalty, and he was still at it when court opened today. He is the technical expert of the state's attorney's office; he makes his way among the technicalities and the precedents with a familiarity that bespeaks long acquaintance. He will be followed by one of the Bachrach brothers for the defense; then Joseph P. Savage, for the state, followed by the other Bachrach brother, until finally the issue narrows down to smooth, suave Clarence Darrow, the "ace" of the defense, and to Robert E. Crowe, the peppery state's attorney, who has fought for two ropes from the start.

The laws of Illinois are not elastic enough to stretch this verdict to a prison sentence, Marshall told Judge Caverly and it must be the noose.

"Three things are involved," Marshall says. "They are responsibility, mitigation and turpitude. Responsibility is a status, there are no grades and degrees.

"If Leopold and Loeb are responsible enough to receive penitentiary sentences," they are by the same responsibility responsible enough to hang. They cannot be sent to prison unless they are responsible for this crime, and if they are responsible the fact is to be determined, not by "weak minds," not by "childish phantasies, delusions and mental disease" but by the turpitude of their crime.

"This testimony has developed the depravity and vile life of the defendants, not nothing at all in extenuation. It stands here an aggravated murder—a helpless, defenseless little boy, snared in his automobile by two fiends."

$758,438 WAS COST OF
COMPENSATION IN
MONTH OF JULY

Harrisburg, Aug. 20. (INS.)—Approximately three quarters of a million dollars was paid in compensation to workmen or their relatives during July, a report of the Department of Labor and Industry shows. The exact amount was $758,438.

During the past month there were 15,102 accidents reported, 185 of which were fatal, 139 caused permanent disability, while 14,778 caused temporary disability.

5,755 agreements for compensation were approved.

Of the total amount of compensation awarded, $466,672 was awarded in fatal accidents, $268,725 paid in fatal accidents, and $496,718 paid as disability compensation.

These figures bring the total accidents reported since January 1, 1916 to 1,587,237 and the amount of compensation paid $56,054,759.

Luzerne county leads in number of accidents with a total of twenty-three; Philadelphia is next with twenty-two; Allegheny third with sixteen, and Fayette fourth with fourteen. Accidents in other counties range from 1 to 9.

Mine accidents lead the list, 79 having been reported. Industrial accidents with a total of 71 are next, while thirty-five accidents occurred in transportation and public utilities.

The counties that had no accidents that involved compensation were: Adams, Berks, Bucks, Butler, Cameron, Clarion, Clearfield, Columbia, Cumberland, Elk, Forest, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Jefferson, Juniata, Montour, Perry Pike, Snyder, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, and Wyoming.

MORGAN FIRM MAY
NOT PARTICIPATE
IN GERMAN LOAN

By DAVID M. CHURCH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Aug. 20.—J. P. Morgan and Company, the world's most powerful international banking firm, may refuse to participate in the flotation of the proposed $200,000,000 German loan because of continued French occupation of the Ruhr, it was learned from an authoritative source this afternoon.

Thomas W. Lamont, who acted for the house of Morgan in the international bankers' negotiations here consistently opposed French occupation of the Ruhr. Lamont and other bankers feared that the presence of French and Belgian troops in the Ruhr would interfere with the free working of the Dawes plan and cause increased resentment on the part of the German people.

However, there are other banks, it is said, willing to assume leadership of the flotation of America's share of the bonds even if J. P. Morgan and Company withdraw.

According to the Westminster Gazette, there is danger of a split in the British cabinet between Premier MacDonald and Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden.

Snowden opposed the Ruhr compromise and the signing of the Anglo-Russian treaties. He was opposed to a Russian loan and demanded immediate evacuation of the Ruhr.

Your Home Newspaper

Harrisburg, Aug. 20. (INS.)—The International News Service which serves the Progress, today augmented its extensive facilities for gathering and disseminating news in Pennsylvania by placing in operation from its bureau here a new automatic telegraphic circuit.

The new circuit gives International News Service more facilities for distributing news in Pennsylvania than any other press association.

In addition to two transcontinental trunk wires which relay national and world news to the Pittsburgh bureau for distribution to other state leased wires of the International News Service, that organization now maintains two automatic telegraphic circuits from its Pittsburgh bureau, a Morse telegraphic circuit from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia connecting its bureau here with both Pittsburgh and Philadelphia bureaus, and full telephone and commercial telegraph connections with scores of Pennsylvania newspapers.

GENERAL OPENS CAMPAIGN IN A STRAIGHT
FROM THE SHOULDER TALK WHICH IS
FIRST OF MANY HE WILL DELIVER

Tells What Budget Plan
Has Accomplished and
Takes Stiff Arm Poke
at La Follette, Bryan.

SPEECH WAS PEPPY

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 19.—The acceptance speech of Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes as Republican vice presidential candidate, follows:

Mr. Chairman, members of the committee, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I accept the nomination of the Republican party for the office of Vice President, of which you now formally notify me.

The formal notification of the candidates of the political parties has established the custom of discussion by them of the issues of the campaign.

This campaign is a campaign of domestic issues, and in the campaign I shall try to discuss them fully, but I cannot cover them all in one speech and say what I want to say. Political issues in the United States have become too serious to trifle with, and its citizens realize it. The discussion of facts and truth is demanded, and that takes time. This is a campaign of brass tacks—not bombast.

G. O. P. Economy.

This administration has reduced the cost of governmental operation, and it was not an accident. It did this by firmly assuming executive control of the business organization of government and by hard work—not by oratory. As a result, under our new tax law, approximately $6,000,000 per day less for national purposes will be collected in 1925 from the taxpayers than for the fiscal year of 1924, and our public debt has been reduced during the budget years, under this administration, in the sum of $2,732,396,381.49. In 1921, the last budget year, of the cost of government collected in national, state and municipal taxes, after debt payments, our Federal expenditures were 50 per cent and those of the states, cities and towns 41 per cent, but in 1923 the Federal government took 28 per cent of the taxes, and 72 per cent was spent by the states, cities and towns.

These figures indicate that, in the matter of economy and tax reduction, the Federal Government is headed in the right direction, and most of the states, cities and towns of our country in the wrong direction.

Coolidge Fearless

The administration, in lowering the enormous amount of Federal taxation, has lessened the drain from the pockets of the people and from the capital actively employed in productive industry.

President Coolidge, with fearless common sense and full knowledge of the facts and circumstances surrounding important decisions, endeavors to do the right and wise thing in the interests of the nation, uninfluenced by motives of political expediency. He courageously recommended the recognition of right principals in the tax reduction bill, indifferent to the denunciations who represent "the union bug" that those who followed the burden on their backs sought to betray them in the method of unloading. But statesmanship, braving temporary criticism and misrepresentation of right purpose, is always decorated with the eventual vindication which comes with full understanding on the part of the public.

This subject of public economy, the subject of relief from taxation, and of an adequate tariff for the protection of our national prosperity, I will discuss upon other occasions. The nonpartisan and economic agricultural question is a national question of such vital importance and so affecting national welfare, that it demands

OF CONCEALING

Boston, Aug. 10. (INS.)—"I will be a hundred years old in a few months and I don't want to die an unknown man. My name is not Matt Green. I am Robert R. Livingstone, and my father was the man who arranged the Louisiana treaty."

Thus to the mayor's committee that visited him spoke the man who had been taken to the hospital where he was taken following a mishap during the recent national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Green, or Livingstone, said he had kept his identity a secret 76 years from the time he was jilted by a boyhood sweetheart.

In 1848 he enlisted in the army as "Matt Green," fought throughout the civil war and was awarded several medals. His military service also included 17 years in the navy. According to his story, the prominence of his family led him to take another name.

fuller consideration than is here possible. I shall discuss it in my speech at Lincoln, Nebraska, on August 29. Hits At "Bryanism"

I will therefore cover, however shortly, in this speech of acceptance, only three issues: one which I deem of the utmost importance, and two others—The League of Nations and The World Court.

It is in the heart and conscience of our people that great issues are defined, and politicians align on them, but have little to do with selecting them. A formidable attack has been launched on the fundamental principles of our constitution, and elemental things like this must be fought out.

One party—the Republican party, of progressive conservatism, under the leadership of President Coolidge, has taken its stand firmly upon the Constitution of the United States and all know where it stands. Opposed to it, and in reality its opponent, though the result of the effort may be to deadlock the contest for the Presidency and make Bryanism, succeed the Coolidge policy, is a movement of limited and dangerous radicalism. With a platform drawn by one man, designed to soften as much as possible the apprehensions as to what the movement party means, an attempt is made to lull those who are patriotic at heart but disconnected with existing conditions, to join with the socialists and other diverse elements opposing the existing order of things in a mobilization of extreme radicalism. A man is known by the company he keeps.

Says La Follette "Red"

In the words of the Associated Press of July 7, "The National Convention of the Socialist Party of America formally enrolled under the La Follette presidential banner." What is this banner which confronts the flag of the United States, upheld by President Coolidge and his platform? In answer I quote from the same dispatch of the Associated Press from a telegram sent by Eugene V. Debs, reading in part: "I think it wise for our party to make no nominations under the circumstances, but at the same time to hold the Socialist party intact, adhere rigidly to its principals and keep the red flag flying." Says the Associated Press further, "The Debs sentiment echoed the opinions expressed in the debate by such party leaders as Morris Hillquit of New York, Representative Victor Berger of Wisconsin, and Mayor Daniel Hoan of Milwaukee." Here is the battle alignment and here are the flags.

Lying between these two armies of progressive conservatism and of radicalism, which are properly aligned upon this issue in the minds and consciences of the American people, is interposed the Democratic party, with one conservative and one radical candidate on its ticket, hoping to get votes by avoiding the issue.

Sees Democratic Defeat

In this situation, for which the American people alone are responsible, the Democratic party, as a party,

Detroit, Aug. 20. (INS.)—Walter C. Tingle, president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors Corporation, announced today the organization of the Ethyl Fuel Corporation, a $5,000,000 concern.

The Standard Oil and General Motors are equal shareholders in the new corporation, it was stated, which will take over the present business of the General Motors Chemical Company, and will immediately undertake to increase the production and enhance the distribution of the ethyl fuel, a discovery which was made by Dr. Kettering and Thomas Midgley, Jr., of General Motors.

KU KLUX AT ALLPORT

The Gray Ku Klux Klan initiation that has ever been held in Allport took place on Lienhardt's hill Monday night, when a large crowd was taken into the order. Hundreds of members were present, the majority being clad in their robes. It was a very pretty sight when the white-robed figures gathered around the fiery cross. At the conclusion of the initiation, refreshments were served which soon disappeared. The fields and roads surrounding the hill were crowded with spectators.

Henry W. Shoemaker, of McElhatton, Pa., and owner of the "Altoona Tribune," paid the following tribute to Frenchville and her citizens in a signed editorial in Tuesday's Tribune:

The Frenchville Picnic

The fifty-fourth Frenchville picnic has come and gone and, as usual, was enjoyed by many persons from Altoona. Good weather again prevailed, and the persons in charge pointed with pride to the fact that there had been only one rainy day in the entire fifty-four years. The Frenchville picnic is one of the most unique gatherings in the Pennsylvania mountains. It brings together for one day in the year the sons and daughters of Frenchville who have scattered to all parts of the Commonwealth. These French people, mostly from Picardy, the part of France which produced Governor Pinchot's ancestors, settled in Clearfield county in 1840, tradition having it that they walked all the way from Philadelphia. Some of the very old people, who were brought from France as small children, were present at the picnic this year, well up in their "eighties," and showed their fond remembrance for La Belle France by wearing the French peasant garb. The French language is universally spoken, at least on the day of the picnic, and natives of France who have resided recently state that the accent is particularly pure and accurate. Thirty years ago many of the stalwart young men of Frenchville were engaged in lumbering and rafting, and the deeds of such intrepid woodsmen as the Billotes, Coudriets, Rougeux, Mignots, Beaussigners, Hugars, Plubels and Lachats are remembered wherever the annals of Pennsylvania lumbering days are recorded. Gone are the logging days, the rafts, arks, bateaux and booms, and today the youth of Frenchville are numbered among the leading railroaders and shopmen of the State, being particularly numerous at Altoona, Sunbury, Renovo and Avis.

H. W. S.

The Pennsylvania State Game Commission, in its annual report just issued, asserts, among other things, that the coming Legislature kindly let the game laws alone. This is a wise suggestion. The game laws are now about as near perfect as we could wish them and the sportsmen of the State all appear to be satisfied with them.

Hunting accidents in the two years covered by the report totaled 320, of which 90 were fatal. The report said these were "far too large" but were in about the same ratio as

While the game laws are very satisfactory the fish laws of the State are equally unsatisfactory, especially as they relate to trout fishing, propagation and protection. We have at hand a letter on "How The Brook Trout Can Best Be Preserved" from the pen of Judge A. S. Heck, of Potter county, which recently appeared in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, which should be read by every trout fisherman and we propose to print that letter in this column tomorrow as a matter of public education on the subject treated in the hope that it may be the means of bringing about desired legislation to accomplish the ends Judge Heck sets forth in his expert findings.

And they are sane beyond all reasonable doubt. They are asking your honor to speculate on the responsibility that they themselves admit. That is all. "Dicky" and "Eabe" move somewhat uneasily in their seats as Marshall talks. The grins and the guffaws that have constituted their show of nonchalance throughout this trial fade away somewhat, but still there is no indication of any "break" in their remarkable composure. They listen closely and whisper to their attorneys, and two seconds after adjournment or recess they are heading for the bull pen for a chat and a smoke.

Philadelphia, Aug. 20—Found dead in a park last night without signs of struggle and with a bullet in the back, a sixteen-year-old girl, her name is Mary Walsh, was shot today by a man who is now being sought by police.

According to her story, she came home from Plainfield with her foster parents in an automobile. While resting at the Park she left them to take a walk during which she was kidnapped. The girl steadfastly refused to divulge the names of her foster parents.

Harrisburg, August 20—Escaping uninjured when her husband's automobile was demolished in a crash near here, Mrs. Ida Jenkins, of Bloomsburg, Pa., was severely injured when struck by another automobile as she was looking at the wreck.

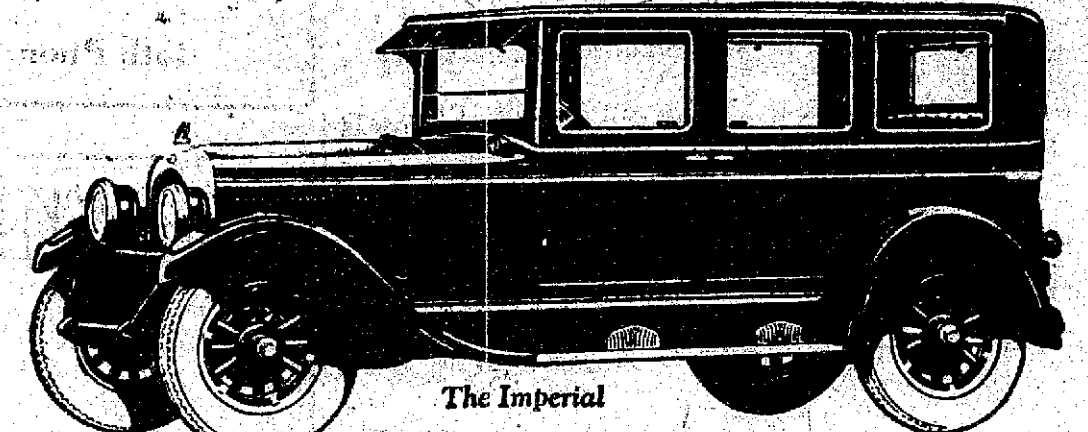

Traffic on the river road was jammed by the first accident, and as Mrs. Jenkins and some friends were standing near the curb, an automobile driven by C. C. Rieder, a teacher at Bloomsburg State Normal School, skidded into the crowd knocking several persons down. Mrs. Jenkins was

Unequaled Driving Ease At All Speeds

The Imperial

The four-wheel brakes—Chrysler Lockheed hydraulic type—we believe to be the simplest and most efficient in existence today. They are automatically and permanently equalized. Each individual wheel receives precisely the same braking pressure each time the brakes are applied. These brakes require no lubrication. There is not a single rod or strut to rattle. Also among the numerous Chrysler Six features are the centrifugal air-cleaner which purges the air taken in by the carburetor; and an oil-filter which thoroughly cleans all the oil in the crankcase every 25 miles, promoting economy and long life.

With a touring car weight, ready for the road, of 2705 pounds, the Chrysler Six can be driven in comfort at 60 miles and upwards over rutted roads and cobble streets.

Its Chrome-Molybdenum tubular front axle and pivotal steering, with ball thrust bearing king pins, make it as easy to handle at speeds of 60 to 65 as at 30 to 35.

A new type of spring mounting, with springs close to the hubs and parallel to the wheels, makes it possible to drive the Chrysler Six around turns at 50 miles an hour. Side-sway and road weaving are eliminated.

Why It Will Pay You To Trade In Clearfield

DUFTON HARDWARE COMPANY

Twenty-two years ago the Dufton Hardware Company started business at its present location in Clearfield after purchasing the James P. Staver harness, buggy and implement establishment. To this business was added a general line of hardware and building material and a three story brick addition built on the rear of the property. As demand grew for new lines they were added and other lines were cut out, such as harness, buggies, etc.

As Clearfield grew so did the business grow and today the Dufton Hardware Company occupies all four floors of its new brick building and has large warehouses and lumber sheds near the B. R. & P. station.

A FARMER'S OFFICE

In the 1924 home improvement contest for rural and small communities, conducted by the extension division of the Department of Agriculture, a house in Albemarle county, Virginia, won first place. In that model farm home one of the rooms was furnished as a farmer's office.

An office for a farmer is something new in domestic architecture, but its entrance upon the scene tells much of recent developments in farming. It indicates that the modern farmer does more than plow, plant and reap, and more than milking and general chores. In these days the prosperous farmer keeps books on his farm activities. He knows what his labor is worth and how much his crops cost him and how to rate the living he gets from his farm as well as the cash profit at the end of each year. He has magazines and scientific bulletins to read and he has some business correspondence to attend to.

The intelligent farmer never was the hayseed the comedians of cartoon and stage liked to pretend he was. Along with better farm machinery and up-to-date farming methods it is understandable that he is coming to need a quiet and convenient office in which to take stock of his affairs and carry on the strictly business side of his occupation.

SNORERS

The Chicago Department of Health deserves the gratitude of the world for making it known that snoring is not a habit but a disease, and that it can be cured.

In the case of children, says a department bulletin, the cure is likely to be effected by the simple process of removing the adenoids which ought to be removed anyway, as an aid to health; the family's relief from the snoring is just so much to the good. Similar treatment will cure many an adult, too. But whatever the cause, it is nearly always remediable.

This tip should suffice, in most cases, to send the conscious offender to his or her family physician, and to bring the truth to the ears of unconscious offenders. For snoring is an evil which goes far beyond the mere breathing defects of which it is a symptom. "That more killings have not taken place on account of snoring," says the Chicago bulletin, "is due to good emotional control, and we should be thankful for that." But emotional control, as we are often reminded nowadays, is liable to break down at any time.

PRIVATE ARMAMENT

A seventeen-year-old boy who pursued the primrose path of burglary for several months before he was caught, and who confesses cheerfully to about two dozen robberies and burglaries, gives an illuminating account of his entrance upon the path of crime.

He deliberately chose that path, he says, because it was "such an easy way to make a living". It was easy to begin because there was no trouble at all about getting revolvers from mail order houses. After he had them, with the artificial courage and means of offense and defense they supplied, he had no difficulty in carrying out his plans. He lived very well until the police finally caught him.

This is only one more indictment brought against the unregulated sale of firearms. How long will a country that is so eager for the disarmament of nations delay action looking to the disarmament of its own criminals?

BALANCED RATIONS

By FLORENCE DAVIES
Modern experts on the science of eating have been talking for years now about the balanced ration. Years ago we ate meat and potatoes and white bread and butter and apple pie, and called it a meal. Also we developed headaches and acidosis and didn't know why. Too many starches and proteins in the diet. Too much concentrated food, not enough roughage, not enough vitamins, not enough carbohydrates. So we substituted whole wheat bread for starchy white bread, added a crisp salad or a green vegetable, tried fruit instead of pie for desert once in a while and found that we all got along better.

But there's another chapter to it. It is business of the balanced ration. We have found out how good they are for the body and it's about time that we tried them for the mind. Steady mental diet of one kind is just as bad for the mind as a monotonous physical diet. That is one reason why we simply have to take vacations. It isn't because we are all so tired physically that we have to take a rest. That theory is largely mythical.

I know a woman who works hard all day long doing the hardest kind of domestic duties for her large family. She gets so tired physically that she sometimes declares she can't drag one foot after the other. But her vacation didn't consist of going to bed and resting for a week. No, she snatched a few days in a big city where she worked as hard at play as she ever worked making beds and ironing little boys' blouses.

She was at it early and late, catching an early train for a trip to the suburbs to visit a friend and staying up to go to the theatre in the evening. She went home with the ridiculous admission that she'd have to get back to housework and get rested up. But she had had a fine vacation. She had had a change of mental diet.

We all need it. We all ought to take a look at our mental menus once in a while and see what's on the bill of fare. Check it over. For the business woman, it's a matter of being up in the morning and off to work, reading the daily paper on the bus or car, work till lunch, an hour off with the same little set of office pals, back home to dinner, a favorite magazine, a movie, or a chat with the same people at the boarding house, and, as Pepys, the diarist would say, "and so to bed."

The club woman's day is apt to follow a routine in much the same way, and the teacher finds herself slipping into a mental groove. Why not study the mental menu and add a new dish? If you haven't been to a play or movie for a month, why not go? If you've been every week all summer long, why not stay at home and get a book on American painters? The old boys were a jolly funny lot. Or a City planning, or modern methods of dealing with juvenile delinquents. It doesn't matter very much what you choose, but let's have a change. Minds as well as bodies need variety.

Your balanced mental ration will do your mind as much good as the fresh salads do your bodies. Balanced rations for minds as well as bodies. Try 'em.

Acceleration, Safety Factor, Says Franklin Auto Sales Agent

"Ability to accelerate quickly is a very definite factor making for safety in automobile driving," says S. E. Ackerman, sales manager of the Franklin Automobile Company. "While the Franklin car has always had an enviable reputation for safety, 49 per cent increase in power now gives it a celerity of movement which makes it a safer car to handle than ever."

"Many times in driving in traffic, ability to speed up quickly avoids tight situations. From 5 to 25 miles per hour in nine seconds shows how agile the Franklin is in this kind of driving. When out on the road acceleration from 30 to 50 miles per hour in 16 and one-fifth seconds makes it possible to get around the laggards without risking 'close calls' with cars approaching rapidly from the opposite direction."

"Any marked ability to accelerate calls for deceleration in equal degree, which Franklin provides in its power-fuel-injection transmission brake. With it, the car can be brought to a stop from a 40-m.p.h. speed in the distance of 82 feet 4 inches, and from a speed of 20 miles an hour in 20 feet."

CONGRESSMAN SWOOPE WILL SPEAK FOR COOLIDGE AND DAWES

Congressman Tilson, who is managing the speakers campaign for Coolidge and Dawes in the Eastern part of the country, has written Congressman Swoope the following letter:

"As you may know, I have been selected to manage the Speakers Bureau for the Eastern Headquarters of the Republican National Committee and I am now preparing a list of speakers of national prominence who will be available for use outside of their own states during the coming campaign."

"I hope that I shall have the benefit of your services for a considerable part of the campaign and I wish you would drop me a line at once letting me know whether I can count upon you for work of this kind during September and October."

"I would like to have you work with me in the speaking campaign in the east and wish you would let me know whether you can help and when you will be available for speaking engagements."

Following this letter, Mr. Swoope received a telegram asking him to speak in New York and Massachusetts. If his engagements at home will permit, Mr. Swoope will make some speeches in those states during the campaign.

Atlantis is a continent mentioned in Plato's history, and extended across the Atlantic Ocean approximately from Europe to Yucatan. It is the subject of an exhaustive volume by Ignatius Donnelly and has also served as inspiration for several novelists. This continent, it is believed, was the home of a great race which conquered and civilized the world. The Azore Islands are considered to be the tops of its lofty mountains, and are all that now remains above water of the great country.

"OLYMPIC MEET" AT PARK CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING

The "Olympic Meet," planned for the young folks of the community at the athletic park tomorrow afternoon, promises to be an unusual affair. All Wallacetown Park, Wednesday, Aug. 21, those 16 and under have been practicing hard at their local playground in an effort to capture the all-around athletic honors of Clearfield and most of the teachers are expecting to send their full quota of fleet hopefuls to the final tests.

On account of the Chautauqua the meet will not start until after dinner and all contestants are to be on the job ready for action at 2 o'clock. Four events will be run off at a time and the program should not last over two hours.

The prizes, which have been on display, have attracted considerable attention and with the wording "All Around (Boy or Girl) Playground Championship, Clearfield, Pa.," should see every girl and boy to do their best. First, second and third prizes will be awarded in each group.

The field will be put in shape today and at the stated time tomorrow the Olympics will be under way.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Penrose and sons Ralph, Clifford and Billie, of Glen Richey, spent Sunday with Geo. S. Jones and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kanouff, residing near Wallacetown, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the Clearfield Park, Wednesday, Aug. 21, going once more through the ceremony connected with the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Morgan, of this town, performed the ceremony, after which a sumptuous dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Riekner, of Clearfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Washburn, of Morrisdale, were attendants for the happy couple. They received many beautiful and useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Kanouff, though getting pretty well up in years, are still quite active. Mr. Kanouff being 75 and Mrs. Kanouff 66 years of age. The happy couple have ten children, 46 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Among those present were Rev. B. Hummel, Mrs. James Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Riekner, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Carr and child, Mrs. Laura Owens and Earl Kanouff, of Clearfield; Mrs. Polly Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John Brown and five children, of Krebs.

Little Miss Maybelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Leigey, of the Glaub farm, is taking a week's visit at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Maybelle Thomas, on Weaver street.

In the Courts

Recent automobile accidents in this section are responsible for two personal injury suits begun in the Clearfield county courts this week. In the first case J. Mitchell Chase, Esq., representing Louis Aveni, of Woodland, asks $465 from Joseph Aveni, of Clearfield, for injuries sustained by himself and his Chevrolet bug as the result of a collision with a Ford truck owned by the Clearfield man who is said to be a cousin of the plaintiff.

The accident which is responsible for the suit occurred down on Daisy street, between Ninth and Tenth, on May 24th, 1924. On the evening of that day Louis Aveni drove down Daisy street in his bug, traveling like a "bugger," to use an old-time slang expression. The other Aveni's truck backed out of the alley mid-way between Ninth and Tenth streets as Louie neared the spot with the result that bug and truck smashed together. Louie came out of the fray with his scalp lock hanging on his rear collar button and was forced to spend one week at the Clearfield hospital while the doctors there tacked the fur back on his capula. He was unable to work for six weeks on account of the injuries sustained in the wreck, losing thereby $1 to $5 per day he was acquiring upon payment of poisonous doctor bill totaled $85. He asks that Cousin Joe reimburse him for all of this and $300 for the "bug," or a grand total of $465.

Bell & Brockbank, on behalf of Michael Mulgrew, of DuBois, have also entered suit against E. C. Pooler, Jr., of Rockton, in which $5,000 damages are asked for the death of Charles Mulgrew, a son of the plaintiff, who was knocked down and dragged a considerable distance by an automobile being driven over the streets of DuBois on the night of September 16, 1922.

The statement filed recites that on the night in question young Mulgrew left the Eagle's Hall and in attempting to cross N. Brady street was within two or three feet of the west curb when struck by the defendant's automobile, which the plaintiff alleges was being driven in a careless and reckless manner.

The plaintiff, who is 69 years of age and partially incapacitated from labor by reason of age and infirmities, is suing for $5,000 damages for the loss of his son's care and assistance and for expenditures of $403.60 for funeral expenses and $30 other expense incidental thereto.

Farm labor is not a very gainful occupation, nor do pay days arrive very often, if one is to judge by the experience of R. B. Shirey, as recited in his bill of particulars in a suit filed Monday against Moses Norris, Pike township. Shirey, by his attorney J. Mitchell Chase, filed a suit demanding that Norris pay him $907 for back wages due. The statement filed says that on July 1, 1914, the plaintiff entered into an agreement with the defendant to work upon his farm for the (princely) sum of $15 per calendar month. Under this contract he labored until Nov. 15, 1919. During the entire 64 1/2 months he received wages to the amount of but $907 and this suit is brought for the purpose of enforcing the contract or agreement and collecting the remaining $907.

Bell & Brockbank, on behalf of James Hession, of DuBois, have entered suit against the P. R. R. Co., in which damages of $2,000 are asked for personal injuries received by Hession while a passenger on a main line train of the Pennsy. The statement filed sets forth that on August 23, 1923, the plaintiff was in Pittsburgh and purchased a ticket for Greensburg. Through the error of a station or train attendant he was directed to the wrong gate and when finally taken to the right train was so late that he had to board the rear platform of the last car and was then forced to walk forward through two or three Pullman cars to the coach where his ticket entitled him to ride. Being partially disabled by reason of a crippled right leg he was forced by the swaying of the train as he passed through the vestibule of one of the cars to throw out his hand to support himself, when he got that member caught between the ends of two cars and received painful injuries. He demands $2,000 to pay medical bills and to recompense him for his pain and suffering.

Samuel R. Bogle, of DuBois, was granted a divorce from Emma Bogle, on recommendation of Commissioner L. E. Boyer, the testimony taken showing that a boarder in the Bogle home, one Gilbert E. Waterhouse, had supplanted Bogle in his wife's affections.

A debt is a debt, in the eyes of the law, and the fellow attempting to evade payment is liable to run afoul of the law in several different directions. C. I. Weeks, a former Clearfield transient resident, transferred his scene of operations to Philipsburg some time ago, and while there became indebted to Ferd Todd, in a considerable amount. A check was given Todd, but when the check was presented at the County National Bank here the giver of the check had no funds on deposit to meet it.

Todd then had Weeks arrested for issuing a fraudulent check. He was arrested and placed in jail. Interesting Attorney W. A. Hagerly in his case. Weeks filed a habeas corpus petition, which was heard by Judge Chase Monday. The testimony showed the check to have been a "time check." That is when given it was dated 30 days ahead. The "fraudulent check law" provides where a person takes a "time" or dated ahead check, he bars himself from prosecution for fraud if there is no money on hands to meet the check when the "time" or date for payment arrives.

That being so, when the nature of the check was made known to Judge Chase he directed that Weeks be released from Warden McClure's clutches. He didn't get far, however, as no sooner had he started from the courtroom than Sheriff Lowell stepped forward with a warrant for his arrest for embezzlement of the sum involved and Weeks was soon back in jail on this latter charge.

OSCEOLA HERE TOMORROW

Everything comes to him who waits, or words to that effect. That being so, local baseball fans will have an opportunity tomorrow to see the home team in action at the Driving Park grounds for the first time in many moons. The opposing team will be Osceola with Lefty Fusek on the mound.

Clearfield Butter Making Hit With Housekeepers

The richness of the flavor of the new CLEARFIELD BUTTER is making a distinct hit with the housekeepers of this city. And little wonder! When you consider that the butter is made from the richest of creams, under expert supervision in our own plant, you cannot but realize that it was a matter of course that Clearfield Housewives would take to CLEARFIELD BUTTER at once.

Your grocer can get CLEARFIELD BUTTER for you at any time. Ask him. In case you prefer to keep your butter in a crock in your ice box, we will fill the crock for you at the Reed Street plant.

Curwensville's Own Column

David Reid, who had been ill several weeks at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jos. G. Fullerton, has so far recovered as to be able to go to his home in Glen Richey.

Thursday the Rescue Hose and Ladder drill team goes to Patton to attend the district convention and compete for the drill prize. The fire ladders have been working pretty hard on the drill for the past month, and seem to have arrived at a state of proficiency sufficient to capture the big cash prize offered for the finest drill team at the convention. The Rescue boys have never yet failed to capture the drill prize in any contest in which they had entered, and there is no reason to doubt that on next Thursday they will win and bring the side of Lacy home with them.

Miss Helen Kephart has gone to Mt. Pleasant, Fayette county, where she has entered a contract to teach a winter term of school. She is perfectly capable to handle the work, having recently graduated from a course of study at Indiana Normal. The best wishes for her success by her many Curwensville friends go with her.

Messrs. M. A. Caldwell, Richard Lantz, John Haley, Dr. Blair and James Black form a party which left today for a fishing trip in Virginia, where they will spend the balance of the week trailing the waters of the Potomac for bass.

A new steam heating system is being installed in the Locust street school house. The old dry heat system had become so unreliable that the school board found it absolutely necessary to replace it before the winter season set in. When completed and installed the new plant will cost about $3,000, but it will be well worth it. The plant is really larger than is necessary at the present time, but will come in mighty handy if it is ever found necessary to enlarge the present building. The old boiler was stationed right under the stairway, and being contrary to law, the new one was shifted to the northeast corner of the cellar. The toilet system which had also gone wrong and was a menace to the good health of the pupils, will be replaced by new and more convenient stalls.

"Campaign Of Brass Tacks"

instead of recreating itself from the two battle lines, will suffer only the fate which befalls those who try to straddle in a real fight.

We are face to face with an abnormal condition in this country, existing because of lack of respect for law, caused in part by widespread demagoguery in legislative bodies, in part by the weakness of many of those commissioned to execute the law, and in part by the existence and activities of aggressive minority organizations behind selfish purposes.

In Congress during the last few years the American citizen has heard more demagogic utterances than have ever before characterized it. He has seen men running for Congress and the Senate, advocating in the same state at the same time, and irrespective of their inconsistency, increased wages for railroad labor and decreased railroad rates, and higher prices for beef on the hoof and lower prices for beef on the table.

It is not too much to say that from the average candidate for office in either party, he must accept either evasion or a doctrine designed to please him and appeal to his prejudices, irrespective of whether or not it tends to plunge the whole country in disaster.

He has seen the disposition on the part of political leaders and officeholders to condone in minority organizations acts of lawlessness. He has witnessed the stealing on the part of the candidates, of the habilitations of a conservative party for election purposes, and then, after election, the betrayal of the party to those arrayed against fundamental principles of the Constitution.

The average man, with his sense of fair play, despises and condemns the man not to catch votes under false pretenses, and he feels that the desire of politicians to get votes in this way is endangering the fundamentals of this great republic.

As the enemies of the existing order of things group themselves for battle, the average good citizen knows that the elemental principles for which his forebears fought are at stake.

He demands a strong leadership, standing on the Constitution, and moving forward with law and order, common sense and high purpose, to combat strong leadership tending toward disintegration.

He has this in Calvin Coolidge and the platform on which he stands. Neither President Coolidge nor his party platform assumes that the Constitution of the United States is an outworn document of old-fashioned ideas, to be discarded for the principles of the new socialism.

YELLOW DOG DOINGS

The Yellow Dogs of this vicinity gathered at the new K-9 Kennel at Irvin Park, Curwensville, in goodly numbers last evening for the purpose of taking some action relative to taking out personal injury insurance for both old Sirius, the senior Dog Star, and Kanicula, the little Dog Star, both of which will be located so close to the planet Mars on next Friday, when the home of the first warrior makes its nearest swish to the earth in a thousand years.

A new Yellow Dog from New Millport claims to be able to read, the heavens and is in general communication with all the heavenly regions and bodies, and is said to have informed Chief Cur Norris of the possible danger to the canine stars on this occasion, hence the alarm regarding the need for insurance against a Martian even attempting to tie a tin can to either Dog Star's tail.

Those New Millport fellows, Yellow Dogs included, are so reckless with the truth, that the scenery one could not even get a hearing on his insurance proposition—he is a director in the Grange Insurance Co., Low LaPorte claims. The proposition to parade on Labor Day also got jammed in the slats and there will be no parade, because there will be so much going on in Curwensville on that day nobody will have time to do anything but enjoy himself.

The proposed pilgrimage to DuBois to organize a kennel was put on the program for the near future after which Judge Chase was called upon to give a history of the Yellow Dogs. He took his text from one of Billy Bryan's dissertations on evolution and agreed with Bill that while a bald-headed man could be a Yellow Dog his over-civilized bare cranium was proof positive that even though he could make a monkey of himself at times he never descended from one. Some errors in the Judge's dates and facts were corrected by another Clearfield kennel hound, and then Chief Cur Norris called the role of the class of new members present for initiation.

The class was headed by Hugh M. Irvin, Curwensville's most philanthropic citizen, who, with his sister, presented beautiful Irvin Park to Curwensville for all time to come. Mr. Irvin was introduced to the assembly and was given a highly flattering reception, ending with three rousing cheers in recognition of what this good citizen is doing for his home and people.

The new class totaled 125 members and the ceremonies incident to their majestic, elevating and to the point, majestic, elevating, and to the point.

At next week's meeting the full Labor Day program will be announced.

PRIMARY FACTORS AFFECTING FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES OF THE FARMER

Forty-two per cent of the farmers in the United States blame their financial difficulties on the low prices of farm products, according to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, which has completed a study of the primary factors affecting the financial difficulties of the farmer based on a survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture. Seventy per cent of the farmers feel that high taxes are the direct cause of the farm depression, eleven per cent blame the high costs for farm labor, ten per cent feel that high freight rates are responsible, ten per cent blame high interest, six per cent credit the depression to reckless expenditures during boom period, and four per cent think it was too much credit.

An inquiry made by the Department of Agriculture through both bankers and farmers shows that on an average 3 per cent of the farm owners in 15 corn and wheat-producing states lost their farms through foreclosure or bankruptcy. Four and a half per cent more had turned over their farms to creditors without legal process, making a total of about 8.5 per cent who had lost their farms with or without legal proceedings. An additional 15 per cent were really bankrupt, but were holding on through the leniency of their creditors. By groups of states the percentage of owner-farmers who lost their farms since 1920 were as follows: Five East North Central states, nearly 6 per cent; seven North Central states, over 9 per cent; and for the three Mountain states nearly 20 per cent. The percentage of tenants who lost their property ran materially higher.

Records of the Department of Justice indicate that in the pre-war years, 5 per cent of all the bankruptcy cases were farmers. In 1922 a survey showed that 14 per cent of all bankruptcy cases were farmers. In some of these states where in pre-war years the farmer bankruptcy cases represented about 7 per cent of all such cases, this percentage in 1922 had risen to nearly 30 per cent.

These losses have not been due to inefficiency on the part of the farmers, points out the Agricultural Foundation, as practically all of them were incurred by men who had been doing fairly well until they entered the period of drastic deflation.

Great Rally To Close
Big Union Meetings

Will not be closed until the grand rally on the 31st. Upon the advice of many lay members of the five combining Churches, the pastors of four of the Churches on Monday morning planned to meet the urgent request of the people by closing this series of Sunday night union meetings with a big rally in Trinity Church on the 31st. The outstanding features of that gathering, at which for the first time in the series every pastor of the five churches will be present, are not sufficiently matured at this writing for announcement. But it will be a goodly meeting, a climax—so far as the plans can make it.

Instead of union meeting the 24th as planned, the Chautauqua Vesper Service in the tent, will be held. This is a repetition of great Chautauqua service, held for 50 years at Chautauqua, N. Y. In this great and wonderful service, to be carried forward in Clearfield under very fortunate conditions, two attractive features can be announced. They are the cream of the Chautauqua talent of this year, and happen to be assigned to Clearfield for the Sunday stay-over. The Swiss Yodlers are to furnish the music, and the distinguished Mr. Samuel W. Griffith, known for his newspaper work in the Spanish war, and special religious correspondent for the Washington "Star," but most of all as Religious and Industrial Director of the largest "YM" in the world, is to deliver a great message. This substitution will center a greater interest in the Sunday night meeting and hold Chautauqua in finer and closer relation and valuation.

Highway Patrolmen Are

800 Violations In July

Harrisburg, Aug. 20 (INS)—Eight hundred prosecutions for violation of the motor vehicle laws were made during the month of July. It was announced here today.

Of the 800 violations made by the State Highway Patrolmen, 292 were for careless driving, 150 for passing, 100 for illegal turns, 147 for using car out of gear, 78 for driving without license, 57 for 1-1/2 ton high powered headlights, and the remainder for various minor violations.

These prosecutions enriched the Treasury by $8,172.

N. Y. C. SHOPMEN PICK
AT IRVIN PARK

The shopkeepers of the New York Central car shops and their families held a basket picnic at Irvin Park, Clearfield, yesterday. The affair was highly enjoyed by all, especially the kiddies who took good advantage of the free amusements found at the park.

The baseball game was won by the home team who scored 16 runs to the marred mark of 9. A feature of the game was Peterson's running for "Red" Kelly, using his Oakland sedan to round the bases and being tagged out between third and home.

"Hello" Girls Prevent
Panic When Fire Rages
In Big Pittsburg Hotel

Pittsburgh, Aug. 20.—Telephone girls prevented a panic when fire broke out late yesterday in the repair shop of the William Penn hotel, on the 19th floor. Calling every guest, the girls assured them there was no danger, as the fire could not break thru the heavy cement barriers which held it inside the repair shop.

Elevator operators also stuck to their posts, reassuring guests. Firemen, breaking through a throng which collected as soon as the flames became visible from the street, quelled the blaze after a hard fight. The damage was estimated at $6,000.

PINE STREET WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Ann Mignot, of Pine street, who had been suffering from cancer for some time, passed away yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Jackson, at Norfolk, Va., where she had been staying since becoming seriously ill.

Mrs. Mignot was a native of the Frenchville region, but came to Clearfield following the death of her husband, the late Ferdinand Mignot, several years ago.

Her remains will arrive in Clearfield tomorrow afternoon and funeral announcement will then be made.

In addition to the daughter mentioned, Mrs. Mignot is survived by one son "Ferd" or C. J., of Clearfield.

Of Fall Dresses

In no period since the time of primitive man has fabric played a more important role in clothes. Lines are slender and tapering and slashes, slits and buttons are decorative purposes rather than for use. You should see these dresses in their many phases of smartness. They have the air of refinement, and good taste that have characterized our dresses of previous seasons.

AND URWARDS

Mrs. B. F. Mons, Ben Jr., and Miss Jane, returned yesterday from a month's delightful visit with relatives and friends in Eastern Indiana and Western Ohio. They stopped off on the return trip with relatives in Greensburg and Tyrone.

Mrs. J. C. Bloom, of Irvons, visited Elizabeth Boyce over the week-end.

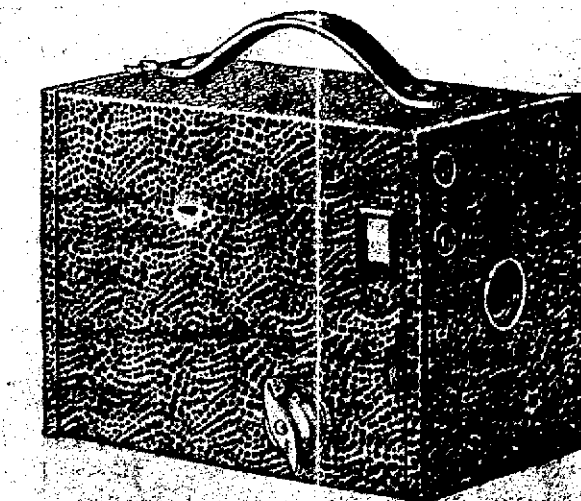

Mrs. John Chaplin left this morning for Barnsbore where she will sing at the Morton-Ott wedding, which will take place Thursday.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that swindiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red blood cells—and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes venous-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give your self what you have been working for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.
